The screenshot shows the homepage of the Digital Repository of Ireland (dri.ie). At the top right, there is a search bar with the text "Keywords:" and a "Search" button. Below the search bar are social media icons for Facebook and Twitter. The main header features the "dri" logo in a stylized font, followed by the text "Digital Repository of Ireland" and "Taisclann Dhigiteach na hÉireann". A navigation menu below the header includes links for HOME, ABOUT US, PROJECT, DRI CONSORTIUM, SUPPORTERS, PUBLICATIONS, EVENTS, NEWS, and CONTACT. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column features a news article titled "Minister Sherlock acknowledges Ireland's Digital Archiving strengths", posted on October 26, 2012. The article includes a link to the original press release and a quote from Minister Sherlock: "Digital Repository of Ireland is a champion of digital innovation in Ireland with a multitude of applicable uses for societal and economic development internationally". Below the text is a photograph of four people (three women and one man) smiling and looking at a large green book or document. The right column contains a "News" section with two items: "Minister Sherlock acknowledges Ireland's Digital Archiving strengths" and "Pictures from #RODH2012 Day 1 posted". Both news items include a "Read more" link. Below the news section is an "Events" section with the title "Realising the Opportunities of Digital Humanities".
